

Hello!

I hope you had a nice Christmas with your family. I did.

What I've been up to in the last month

I've been posting about the Self-Publishing Summit in my LinkedIn page.

I've also been posting some video clips about pronunciation in my Word of Mouse blog. Take a look! Hope you have some fun! You're welcome to leave a comment.

I continue to read quite a bit about self-publishing and e-marketing, a subject that really interests me.

Most important of all, I translated my Radical English friend, Jennifer England's e-book, Speak English Once and for All, into Portuguese. And I sent it to her on Christmas Day as my Xmas present. It'll be available on Amazon soon.

On the Radical English front

Judy Thompson gave her first solo webinar in a Google Hangout. It's titled "How to Teach Pronunciation: Getting Started". Here's the recording and the presentation on Slideshare. You'll find both quite interesting and useful.

Peggy Tharpe of AmericanPronunciationCoach.com, recently published a set of worksheets specifically designed for Japanese speakers learning English pronunciation. They accompany her English pronunciation guides for Japanese speakers. You can find them on Amazon.com at her Author Page.

Scheduling a webinar with your class

Finally, I'd like to remind you that I'm looking forward to interacting with one of your classes to show you and your students how my "simple and intuitive" pronunciation strategy works. We can do it in a Google Hangout or in Zoom. I'd like to do this with 5th and 6th grade classes. If any of you are interested, please contact me at teredeca-at-gmail.com so we can make all the arrangements.

Feel free to share this month's newsletter with anyone who may be interested.

Happy New Year to you and your Family! :-)

Enjoy pronouncing!
